DR. CHARLES T. POWERS
B.A., B.C.S., M.A., D.C.S.

Dedication

We, the class of 1956, proudly dedicate our yearbook, The Ledger, to Dr. Charles T. Powers, Professor of Taxes and Accounting, who is retiring after forty-five years of teaching.

Dr. Powers began his teaching in Randolph, Vermont; later moved on to Springfield, Massachusetts. For five years he was at Northeastern as Professor of Accounting. Upon leaving Northeastern, he accepted a position at American International College as Director of the School of Business Administration. In 1947, "Doc" came to Bryant and has remained here as professor of taxes and accounting.

It is with sincere appreciation that we dedicate our yearbook to a man who has unselfishly aided many students to reach their goals in life. His red vest, plaid golf cap, and familiar smile will be missed throughout the campus.

DR. HENRY L. JACOBS
President

President's Message

I have great confidence in you the Class of 1956. The confidence born of the knowledge that you completed a difficult and challenging curriculum in our accelerated course of study. Also, the confidence born of Eliot's famous statement, "Nothing is impossible to men of faith and conviction."

Your teachers have done everything possible to assist you in the cultivation of your potentialities and to prepare you for the highly competitive field of business. They have given you the special knowledge that will ease your entrance into this professional world.

Now you must make this education come alive. You must continue to think positive, vigorous and dynamic thoughts. Accept responsibility and continue to grow in culture and character. Affirm goodness, happiness and health and you will develop these with God's help.

May the years treat you kindly and bring you back to your alma mater for many warm reunions with classmates and faculty members.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Henry Jacobo". The signature is fluid and stylized, with the first name "Henry" and last name "Jacobo" clearly legible.

President

Classes Will End Next Friday, Feb. 3

On next Friday, February 3, regular classes of the current semester will officially end. For fourth semester students, next week will be their last as undergraduates of Bryant College. Many seniors have already accepted good jobs. THE ARCHWAY wishes to pay special tribute to four students who for various reasons have been prominent during their undergraduate days.

Outstanding Graduating Students.....

Paul Dunne

Paul Dunne has been one of the most active individuals on campus. Paul, a resident of Cranston now, attended Durfee High in Fall River. From there it was a very short hop to the five years he spent in the Army. Paul attended OCS in 1952 and worked his way—up the ranks—to the rank of first lieutenant.

Paul's experiences here at Bryant are many and varied. President of the Prep Class and his freshman class; President of the Student Senate; Class Day Exercises Chairman; promoter of the Bryant Blood Drive. He has built a record of repeated achievement in extracurricular endeavors.

Now twenty-six years old Paul has been accepted as an industrial jewelry salesman for Robbins Company. He is married to a former Cranston High teacher and is the father of a four-month-old child.

Mike Ruggeri

Mike Ruggeri, twenty-six year old ex-Army athlete, and outstanding member of the Business Administration group, has carved a niche for himself in the annals of Bryant successful.

Mike has assumed the presidential responsibilities of both Tau Epsilon Fraternity and the Greek Letter Council during his span of time at Bryant.

Class President and member of the Student Senate; active sportsman and outstanding figure in Professor Mary T. Appleby's Bryant Brevities, Ruggeri has proven his merits by accomplishment. Mike, who saw military service in Germany, has not fully decided on his future life but whatever his goal, his persevering attitudes will take him far.

Donald Slate

Donald Slate, B. A. student from Plainville, Connecticut, is a key figure among the proponents of extracurricular life at Bryant.

A graduate of Plainville High School, Slate, twenty-two, has served in various leadership capacities, among which are: Vice President of his fraternity, Kappa Tau; President of Delta Omega Professional Society; Production Manager of the Glee Club and Masquers; and President of the Student Senate. His work as Chairman of the Bryant Brevities is well known.

Don plans a career in selling. Good luck (as though he needed it) is our wish for a progressive and active personality who should make quick work of even the toughest buyers.

Harold Wilkins

Because of his achievements while Editor-in-Chief of the ARCHWAY, Harold "Skip" Wilkins, has been chosen as one of Bryant's outstanding graduating students.

Born in Worcester, Massachusetts, twenty-four years ago, "Skip" attended local schools and also was graduated from a prep school in Bronxville, New York. After the graduation he entered the Army and served for three years—of which eighteen months were spent in Paris, France, where he worked as a clerk typist.

Upon his discharge from the service, "Skip" matriculated at Bryant College and later married Beverly Wheeler, a former Bryant student. Besides being a writer and serving as Editor-in-Chief of the ARCHWAY, he is an active member of the Phi Sigma Nu fraternity.

WINTER TIME

By

JOE STEPHENSON

After a week of dreary drizzling rainfall Bryant campus came to life after the season's heaviest snowfall. Welcome of the change was evidenced by the appearance of warmly clad students who frolicked merrily in the snow. Students tramped gaily around the campus seemingly with one thought in mind—let's have some fun. Commuters, however, did not enjoy a like attitude towards the snowfall as they found cars stalled, hazardous driving conditions, and delay in returning to their homes.

Around the campus, strange figures resembling snowmen began to appear, and the spirit of conviviality was ever present throughout the remainder of the day. Joining in this spirit of gaiety and still managing to complete their snow removal operation was the ever efficient Bryant maintenance department, who immediately set about clearing the walks and parking spaces.

Although the snow continued to fall heavily until early evening, classes were resumed as usual the following morning. Most commuters were successful in arriving on time for their early morning classes despite traffic congestions caused by the still hazardous driving conditions of the roads.

On Wednesday morning, after the snowfall, Bill O'Neil, photographer for the Archway, was able to capture many of the beautiful campus scenes reproduced on this page. Also, many other students as well as faculty members were putting their cameras to work. By noontime a bright sun had made the snow slippery, and walking conditions were aided by the spreading of sand on the walks.

Because of the suddenness of the snowfall, students appeared in the almost unfamiliar garb of rubbers and over-shoes.
